

3-6-16

The diagram consists of three horizontal rows of rectangular blocks. The top row contains 15 blocks, the middle row contains 15 blocks, and the bottom row contains 2 blocks. All blocks are identical in size and are arranged in a grid-like fashion.
